JUDGE PRYOR FOR THE "L" AT THE NATION'S CAPITOL

Against Suitors for Damages.

The decision was rendered in one of the many suits which are now pending an institute Risvated Railway Company, brought ty projectly owners to recover past camares caused by the maintenance and operation of the roat.

The plaintiffs were Sarah B. Brash and clear, who own 44, 443, 445 and 507 Sixin avenue and certain bouses on Eighth avenue at One Hundred and Sixteenth street, and they asked for damages as well as for an injunction restraining the Company from operating its road in front of their premise.

The plaintiffs were Sarah B. Brash and clear, who have copies of the estimates, say this is something of an exargeration, and that the deficiency is not over $17,000,000. The exact state of affairs cannot be known until the official figures are given out.
